Lynn:

1. As a player,
   I want to see the level of the top most building
   So that I can make decisions for my next moves.

2. As a player,
   I want to select the game mode options
   So that I can choose my preferred game styles.

3. As a beginner player,
   I want to view/play a simple tutorial
   So that I can learn the basis of the game.

4. As a player,
   I want my workers to behave according to the drawn god card powers at the start of the turn automatically
   So that I can use my unique abilities in my turn smoothly.

5. As a spectator,
   I want to know the stage of the players turn (moving stage or building stage)
   So that I can keep track of the game.

6. As a competitive player,
   I want a timer that represents the duration of a turn
   So that I can get done with the match faster.

7. As a worker,
   I want to be able to save my game and exit,
   So that I can come back and finish it later when I am not busy.

Collin:

1. As a player,
   I want to place my workers on the game board,
   So that I can begin the game.

2. As a player,
   I want to move my workers into adjacent available spaces on the game board,
   So that I can take my turn.

3. As a teenager,
   I want to start on the opening screen,
   So that I'm not overwhelmed by being thrown straight into a game.

4. As a spectator,
   I want a clear indication that a player's turn has ended,
   So that I can tell who is taking their turn.

5. As a player,
   I want to be able to build in the available spaces around me,
   So that I can get closer to winning the game.

6. As a competitor,
   I want to be prompted to choose my god card before the game begins,
   So that I can pick the right one for me to play with.

7. As a repeat player,
   I want to be brought to a settings/options screen before I start the game,
   So that I can make sure the game runs how I like it.

8. As a competitive player,
   I want to be able to restart the game quickly from any point,
   So that I can try different scenarios.

V:

1. As a player,
   I want my opponent to be unable to go directly on a level two building from the adjacent ground tile without having a respective hero ability, so that I can make use of strategies to block my opponent's builder.

2. As a player,
   I want my builder to be able to construct a dome on a level 3 building while standing on an adjacent tile, so that I can prevent my opponent from winning the game immediately.

3. As a player,
   I want the opponent builder to be unable to move to the tiles that are currently occupied by the builders of my own unless allowed by one of the god's powers,
   so that the game would feel more fair to play.

4. As a player,
   I want to have two builders (male and female),
   so that I can diversify my strategy and make use of all the available game mechanics.

5. As a player,

I want the game to have a single common and some god-specific win conditions, so that the game doesn't get too boring too fast.

6. As a player,
   I want it to be a game rule that neither of the players can build directly beneath their builders, so that my opponent won't be able to secure a win by remaining in a single spot throughout the entire game.

7. As a player,
   I want my builders to be able to go down from any number of levels without restrictions, so that I will not lead my own builders to a dead end.

8. As a player,
   I want to be able to look up the abilities of any god at any point in the game so that I am aware of all the abilities and the win conditions my opponent would be trying to execute.
